We report the safety and feasibility of a cellular therapy using autologous bone marrow-derived mesenchymal stem cells (BM-MSCs) in the treatment of a patient with an advanced adult left atrioventricular valve prolapse (AVV). Five months following autoimplantation of autologous BM-MSCs, the patient's AVV valve surgery could be safely performed without requirement for hospitalization. At 6 months post therapy, echocardiography and magnetic resonance imaging showed signs of prolapse restoration. Follow-up at 12 months showed consistent improvements in valve function and resolution of their symptoms, when compared with pretreatment. Although human BM-MSCs are therapeutic for patients with end-stage heart disease, this is the first patient in which BM-MSCs have been used as a therapy for an advanced AVV.This post was last Updated on September 18, 2020 Hello and welcome to this week's edition of The Avenues! This week we're getting a little intimate with you and your sex life. So be careful, this is hot! The Avenues is a new feature here at AskTheSexgurl.com. It's just a small space where we answer questions like these. Of course this feature is our tiny attempt to get to know you better and to give you some honest sex advice. This week's question is about sex toys. The question comes from a reader named Tina who wants to know if there 79a2804d6b
